Intermediation(3-4): Ms. Curtis –

This week we have been expanding our vocabulary by highlighting unfamiliar or interesting words and finding out their meanings to add to our new word collection board.

In math, we are still practicing how to borrow numbers and using different math thinking tasks to talk about strategies and approaches to numbers. Today we spent the afternoon exploring our solar system and watching a few videos of astronauts on the International Space Station. By the end of the day, it seemed we may have a few aspiring Astronauts in our school!

Garden preparations are slowly getting underway as well.

What is happening in class?

Junior (5-7): Mr. Vanden Ham - It's been another exciting and active week in our class! Students are continuing to work hard on their cookbook writing project, focusing on clear instructions, organization, and creativity as they develop their recipes. We also had a fantastic ski and snowshoe trip, where students demonstrated resilience, teamwork, and a positive attitude while enjoying the outdoors. It was wonderful to see everyone supporting one another and embracing the experience. We are proud of the effort and enthusiasm students are showing both inside and outside the classroom!

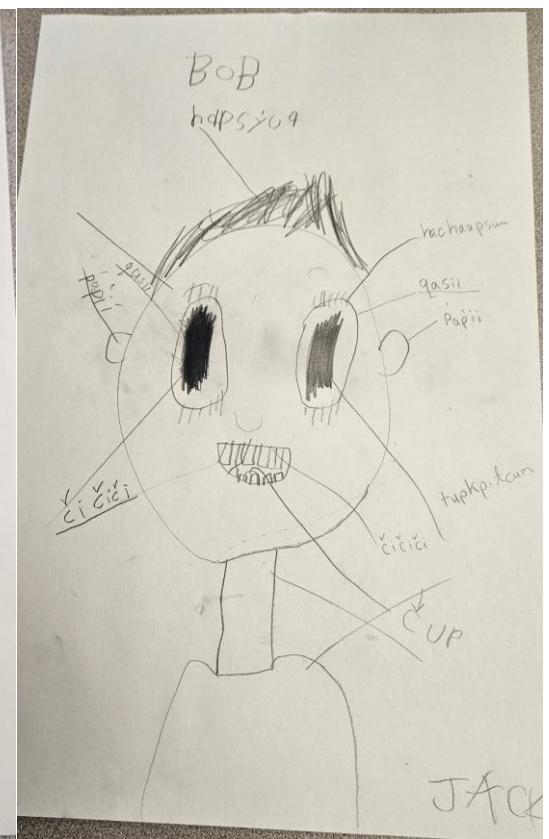

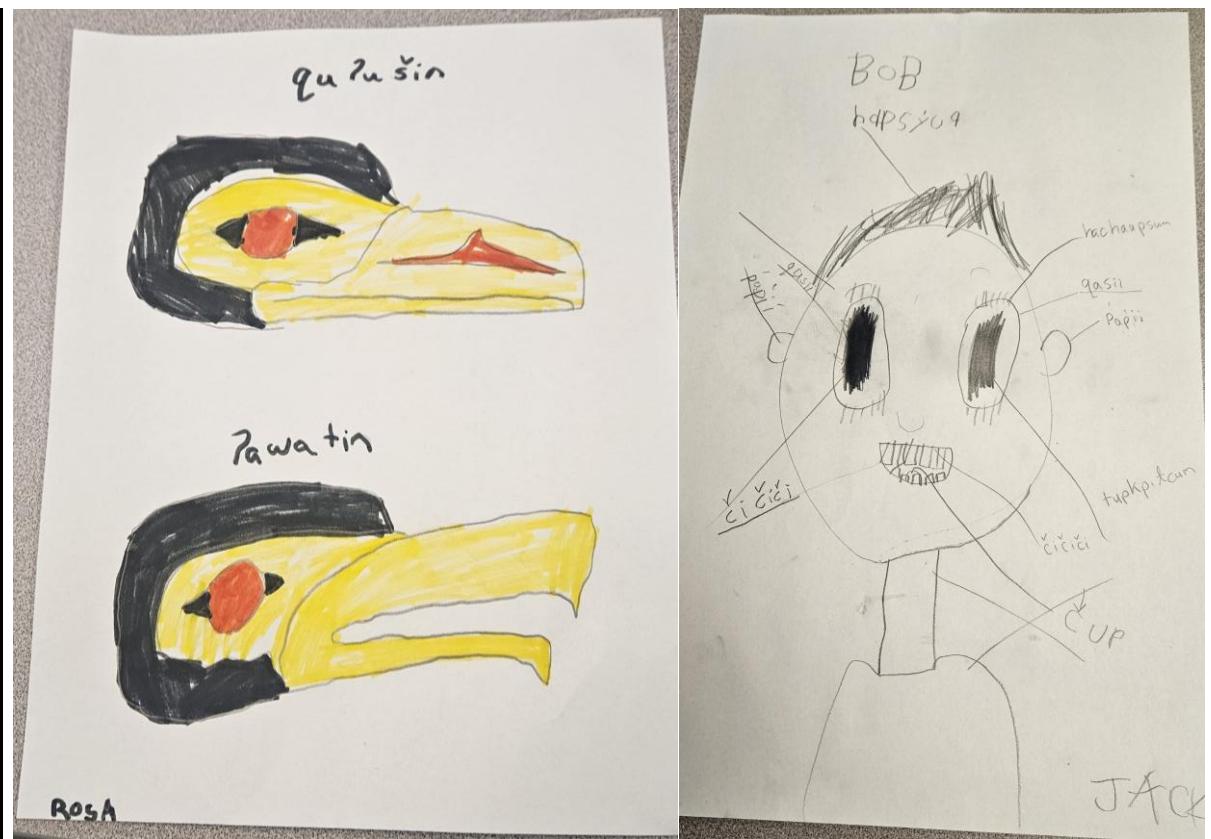

Senior (8-10): Mr. Romyn – There was an amazing ski Trip to Mt. Washington.

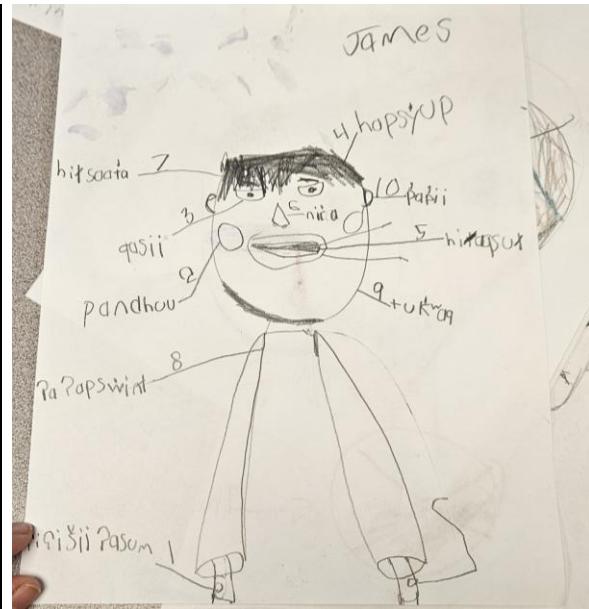

Language and Culture

Celina Hanson – Students have been busy in the culture and language room. Students have been participating in games on quizlet wrapping up our unit on body parts. We are moving onto another domain this following week. Intermediate class spent time during our rare sunny day at the River making boats out of things around the bridge.
